

Dear Mrs. Triplett,

Thanks for your most prompt attention. I received your postal package. The “missive” was interesting (read it and reread it more times than I care to admit) Interesting in the sense that not often so we inmates are appreciated for literary achievements. Indeed, contrary to popular opinions, a few of us, do have an IQ above 70.

Now about the magazine – Prisonworld. The graphics on the cover is interesting. The symbolism of the statue of liberty, the military, and the penal system are noteworthy. And the question, “Which world is yours?” Hell from my perspective (as an African –American male), the symbols are one-in-the same; control apparatuses for the establishment (the elitist).

Frankly speaking, all things considered, I enjoyed the magazine. The “Letter from the Editors” is enlightening. The “Poetic Justice” section is fascination in details. The “Trivia Twist” speaks for itself; the expansion of one’s database.

In a nutshell; the Prisonworld Magazine is an alternative to the one-sided view of The Inside Journal.

In closing, once again, thanks for your most prompt attention.

Respectfully yours,

Gary McNair #416841

Dear Jenny, Editor & Chief Prisonworld mag;

I am in receipt of your magazine, and I wanted to get this letter off to you because you said you needed my photo ASAP for the July issue.

As for the magazine goes, I really do like it. It is full of all kinds of neat stuff. Again thank you for devoting your time to doing this magazine. I find it beneficial and it is appreciated very much.

Well thank you for your time. I look forward to hearing from you and I look forward to the next issue.

Dearest Jenny,

I am a man who is currently incarcerated in the Illinois Department of Corrections. Not long ago a young gentleman stopped me in the gallery to have a brief conversation about you and the good will and deeds you and your friends put forth for such guys like us. He showed me this announcement you put out as a reason disappointment in the guys who do not respect the goodness of your heart and your friends as well. You have taken the time to make it as to where we could have some one to write to. And this disrespect these unfortunate guys have towards the pen pals or infact towards you and your great friends. So I felt this sadness overwhelm me as I read this letter of yours to these guys the announcement for us. So I said to him we must write this young lady an apology letter for those who have disrespected her and this great effort to have us with someone to write us. So I do apologize to you and yours for this mishap from those who do not appreciate you all. Please do not let this disturb your peace of mind or your heart. So I shall close this letter but not before I thank you all. Please keep safe and have a great week to come. You are a one of a kind lady and may heaven smile upon you all.

Sincerely,

McKinley J. Perry N-71383

Hello Prisonworld,

How are you today? Glad to be part of your service. Continue to publish it monthly. Continue to give other services. Continue to answer questions and provide updates of the magazine. I like to say hope to hear from you soon. I will encourage other inmates as myself to purchase your magazine.

Thank you very much, sincerely yours,

Larry Costello EC7612

Dear Jenny,

How are you doing today? My name is Ramel Anderson and I am currently incarcerated at Forest State Correctional Institution. I did get the pen pal list and I thank you for it. I've met a real good friend and we correspond each week. Thank you for your services.

Thank you very much for your time,

As Salaamu Alaikum,

May Allah (SWT) reward you for the opportunity to be a part of a ground breaking Islamic publication for prisoners. There aren't any other forums that cater to us and truly listen to our voice. I truly beg Allah (SWT) to strengthen this organization in all its future endeavors. Whom Allah guides no one can misguide him and whom Allah leads to stray no one can guide.

Editor's Response: We are constantly diversifying our services because we are here for inmates.

Jenny,

I personally appreciate the services your company offers. It never fails, convicts, the male species, always mess it up for the others! Just for the record Jenny, "all male convicts are not alike, some, like myself, respect and like corresponding with incarcerated women." Look forward to hearing more from me.

Editor's Response: I find it funny that a lot of people locked up cannot think beyond prison walls. You may correspond with someone who is incarcerated today but by the grace of God may go home tomorrow. Anything can happen. Also most people won't be incarcerated forever. So the friend you make while incarcerated is 9 times out of 10 going to be your friend while not incarcerated.
